

Pocahontas – Colors of the wind

Tablature for six-hole Native American flute

The tablature is organized into four vertical columns. The first three columns are grouped by vertical grey bars, each topped with a drum icon. The fourth column is a single flute diagram. Each flute diagram shows a flute with six holes, where black dots indicate finger placement. The tablature shows various fingerings and breath techniques for the piece.

